

FIRST RUN FEATURES PRESENTS

“An eye-opening, engaging look at a practice that was once scorned and relegated to a few outliers of society.”

-Tanja M. Laden, HIGH TIMES MAGAZINE

“Alan Govenaar’s forty-years-in-the-making documentary celebrates the art of inking human bodies. There’s plenty of tattooing, the camera getting up close and personal as needles buzz into flesh, creating complicated, daring, and exquisite designs, using the human body as a living canvas.”

-THIS WEEK IN NEW YORK

“Gratifyingly in-depth. Govenaar pulls back the veil...in this colorful, eccentric movie.”

-Kilian Melloy, EDGE MEDIA NETWORK

From antiquity to the present, Tattoo Uprising reveals the artistic and historical roots of today’s tattoo explosion. This sweeping overview explores how tattoos were used in early Christian practices, how they were discovered halfway around the world during the voyages of Captain James Cook, and how they exploded in popularity in America beginning with artists like Ed Hardy.

Tattoo Uprising features some of the most extraordinary people of the tattoo world including Ed Hardy, Stoney St. Clair, Cynthia Witkin, Anne de Hey! and others, as well as unforgettable appearances by filmmakers Les Blank and Werner Herzog, who allows a rare glimpse at his Ed Hardy tattoo.
